

Christian Blind Mission Sunday 14 October 2018

Children's activity sheet

See through Hemedi's eyes

Unscramble and fill in the missing words to see how light and sight changed Hemedi's world forever.

Hemedi is 3-years-old but he's only just seen his dad's  [afec] and colourful  [lwofrse] for the first time. Stop and think... what would that be like?

Hemedi, from Tanzania in East  [riAfca] was born with cataracts in both his  [yese], which made him blind. A simple operation can remove his cataracts, but Hemedi's family are very poor and can't afford to pay £190 for treatment. But thanks to special eye doctors, the charity Christian Blind Mission, and people from  [uchrhces] like yours who give money to help people in need, Hemedi was able to have the  [poertoian] he needed to help him see his family, his friends and his home.

Hemedi and his family are so  [pahpy]; now he can see and he now has a bright future! He can learn to  [drea] and write, and work when he grows up too. This simple operation has now changed his  [feil].

Christian Blind Mission Sunday is a day when we can pray and give to help lots more children like Hemedi  [ese] – children like Mathias, who lives in Uganda, and is waiting for an operation too. With our help, soon Mathias will be  [silmign] as much as Hemedi!

Find the hidden message

What does Christian Blind Mission Sunday help us to do?

Use some plain paper to design your own eye chart with a hidden message. Remember that each row needs to have one more letter than the line before... and the size of the letter in each row needs to get smaller and smaller..

About Christian Blind Mission

CBM has been helping people in other countries who are blind or living with other disabilities, for more than 100 years. In some of the poorest places in the world, there isn't much money to pay for operations and people with disabilities can be forgotten. By sharing what we have, we can help them to see the colours of God's beautiful world and offer a brighter future.
